to bring them to a full realization of the fact that we are at war with Germany. Don't you think it difficult I believe it would take something like that to cause a great majority of Americans to really realize what this war really means to our nation.

But enough of that. This is a perfectly wonderful day, with the sun shining and the birds singing and the grass growing very everywhere. How truly makes one glad that he is in France, especially when you are having

Dearest Sis & Ernie
Recd. two letters from you last week and also your Xmas box. The cakes had dried out a little, but that didn't spoil them so - ate them anyway.

Am sure glad you know we arrived O.K. for I know you worried about the trip over. No doubt you read about the sinking of the American troops. I am wondering if the news of that disaster didn't shake up the American public a bit and tend to
